

Poppy Trails Scavenger Hunt

Explore the Poppy trails and search for all these items on the list. Fill in the boxes to complete the scavenger hunt.

Count all the butterflies you encounter on the trail, at the end of the trail, write the number of butterflies you saw on the box.

Check off a box for every bridge you cross.

The teepee is a type of dwellings used by different native american groups of the plains since prehistoric times. The teepee is still used today for ceremonial purposes or on special occasions.

Did you see any white poppies?

Although the poppies native to the Chihuahuan Desert are typically yellow or orange, some can also be white! White poppies are not quite common, so if you spot a white poppy along the trails, snap a photo and share it with us on our Facebook page using the hashtags #whitepoppy and #PoppySeasonatEPMARCH
